JURY ASKS NEW BEDS FOR JAIL; 5 MORE INDICTED

The January grand jury completed its work Monday afternoon by bringing in five indictments and a report on its findings concerning the jail, county home and court house.

One of the indictments came at the request of the grand jury which said it found evidence in the morals case of Cleason P. Arentz, Gettysburg R. 5, which would indicate that the prosecutrix, Gladys M. Musselman, Fourth and Railroad streets, should also be subject to a trial by jury on a morals charge. Miss Musselman was released under $500 bail to appear next Monday for trial.

It marked one of the few times in Adams county history that a grand jury has brought prosecution on its own. The jury found a true bill on the morals charge against Arentz and then asked the district attorney to prepare an indictment against Miss Musselman on a serious charge. When the indictment was prepared the jury handed it to the court as a true bill.

Urge New Beds for Jail

Also indicted were Robert Shirley, Jr., Gettysburg R. 3, on a charge of assault and battery; Richard Tonsel, South Washington street, on two counts of burglary, one of assault and battery and one of resisting arrest; and Dorsey R. Walterick, York, charged with failing to stop at the scene of an accident. Walterick is charged with hitting with his car and killing a dog owned by Clare E. Hartman, Cashtown.

In the report of its inspection the jury urged that new beds be secured for the jail, a recommendation which Judge W. C. Sheely termed "excellent."

The report follows: "The grand jury inspected the Adams county jail and finds everything in good order and in a clean condition. It commends the sheriff, his wife and personnel for general good order of the entire jail premises. But the grand jury feels that the type of beds used in the jail constitute a hazard because they are so constructed as to be easily broken and used as weapons. It recommends that the county procure such beds as to entirely eliminate this hazard. The beds were new when the jail was opened late last year, a spokesman said.

Urge County Home Work

"It then visited the county home and finds that considering the facilities available and the number of persons cared for, the steward, his wife and the county home personnel

The body of Pfc. Thomas LeRoy Sipling, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ammon Sipling, Hanover R. 1, is among those being returned from the Pacific for re-burial in the United States.

Pfc. Sipling, a member of Company "B", 99th Signal Battalion, died November 23, 1944, at the 36th Evacuation hospital at Leyte from combat wounds received two days earlier near Carigara, Leyte. He participated in the New Guinea and Admiralty Islands campaigns and the Philippine invasion.

He was inducted May 27, 1942, and received training at Camp Wheeler, Ga., and Fort Ord, Calif. He was transferred overseas on April 14, 1943.

Pfc. Sipling was employed as a truck driver prior to entering the service. He was a member of Hanover Lodge 227, Loyal Order of Moose. Surviving, in addition to his parents, are: One sister, Mrs. Donald H. Beck, Hanover; two brothers, George S. Sipling, McSherrystown, and Robert S. Sipling, York.

Military services will be conducted at Mt. Olivet cemetery, Hanover, by members of Hanover Post 2506, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Rev. H. E. Sheely, pastor of Trinity Reformed church, Hanover, will officiate. Other arrangements are incomplete.

Plank Property Is Sold By Sheriff

Trucks, cars and other personal property of Paul L. Plank, Sr., Gettysburg R. 1, local junk dealer, were sold by Sheriff Dorsey Schultz this morning at sheriff's sale. About 50 attended the sale held at Plank's garage on Franklin street. Prices on the five trucks and three trailers ranged from $70 for one truck to $920 for another. Most of the buyers were persons in the trucking business in this area. A total of $3,211.85 was realized. On February 12 the sheriff is scheduled to sell the garage on Franklin street and junk yard and junk at Plank's establishment along the Littlestown road.

The 33rd annual meeting of the Adams County Agricultural Extension association will be held Thursday evening, February 10, at 7 o'clock in the Gettysburg high school auditorium, H. E. Brown, president of the association, announced today.

A business meeting, reports on home economics and agriculture and special features by the Senior Extension club and an outstanding speaker will be among the features of the meeting.

JURY RETURNS FACTUAL VOTE IN FATALITY

A coroner's jury Monday afternoon reached a factual verdict in the death of Hannah Flook, 44, Gettysburg R. 3, who was fatally injured a week ago when struck by an automobile, and then added that it urges the state Legislature to pass laws regulating walking by pedestrians on public highways "for the safety of all."

The jury, meeting at the court house here, found that Hannah Flook came to her death at 5:45 o'clock on the evening of January 11 "of multiple fractures of the skull and that the said injuries were inflicted and death of said Hannah Flook was caused by her being struck by the auto of Mrs. Kenneth Guise. The jury, after hearing the evidence, urges that the Legislature, for the safety of all, make laws regulating the side of the road on which pedestrians may walk, and also make laws regarding the use of lights by pedestrians walking on highways."

That decision came after the jury had been told that Hannah Flook was walking on the Table Rock-Gettysburg road with her back to the approaching vehicle of Mrs. Guise on a dark night while wearing

The Superior court of Pennsylvania has upheld the Adams county case in its opinion in the case of Walter A. Lemmon, near East Berlin, versus the Pennsylvania Department of Highways and the State Workmen's Compensation Fund.

In an opinion handed down January 14 and received here today, the Superior court held that the cerebral hemorrhage suffered by Lemmon when he attempted to remove a road sign in East Berlin as part of his duties as an employee of the State Highway department was an accident caused by the excess strain needed to perform the work he was supposed to do. WORLEY PUT ON 4 COMMITTEES

Four committee positions, including a vice chairmanship, have been given to Adams county's representative in the General Assembly at Harrisburg, Francis Worley.

Mr. Worley is vice chairman of the State Government committee and is a member of the Agriculture and Dairy Industries, Municipal Corporations and Welfare committees.

When the Legislature re-convened Monday, Mr. Worley introduced a bill that would outlaw Daylight Saving Time in Pennsylvania. The measure would make it a misdemeanor to display clocks not set on standard time in public places and carries a penalty of a $100 fine or 10 days in jail for convicted violators.

Rep. Worley also announced he will raise the question of exempting farmers from payment of gas tax on fuel used in tractors and stationary

The new Gettysburg folders, prepared by the Chamber of Commerce, have been received, and were shown for the first time Monday night at a meeting of the board of directors in the Chamber's office in the Kadel building.

The folders contain many new photographs of the battlefield, the historical background of the area, and a map showing the Lincoln highway in red, and other highways leading to Gettysburg.

Photographs of the battlefield on one side of the folder are in color. A picture of the Eternal Light Peace Memorial and new photographs of the National cemetery and of Devil's Den and Little Round Top are among the pictures shown.

The Chamber obtained 50,000 of the new folders, which were pronounced the best and most attractive ever to be distributed here. Folders will be sent to members of the Chamber and to all persons who contributed toward their cost.

The printed matter was prepared by Henry W. Garvin, president of the Chamber.

Carl Menchey, Earl Ferry and Glenn Guise were appointed to audit the financial accounts of the Chamber for 1948.

A seven-year-old boy's courage and the fact that he learned to swim last summer kept an accident at the Aspers reservoir Sunday afternoon from becoming a tragedy.

Gary Maitland, seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Maitland, formerly of Littlestown, jumped into water 12 feet deep to rescue his five-year-old brother, Gregory, who had tumbled into the reservoir a few moments earlier.

The Maitland boys had gone for a walk with two neighbor boys and were playing about the reservoir when Gregory was splashed by one of his companions. The little fellow lost his balance and tumbled into the water.

The neighbor boys ran for help but Gary dove into the water, grabbed his brother's clothing and towed him to the earthen bank of the reservoir. He explained later to his mother that "Greggy was too far out for me to reach so I jumped in and grabbed him. Then I kicked and swam as hard as I could until I got him to the shore."

Last summer, the Maitland boys' father, who is a veteran of World War II duty with the Marines and Seabees in the Pacific, taught Gary how to swim.

Hot milk and a hot bath for the Maitland lads brought them through the experience with no ill effects and Gary was at his desk in the second grade of the Locust Grove school Monday as usual. "They didn't even catch cold," Mrs. Maitland said today.

The Maitlands moved to Aspers only a month ago.

Schoolmen Will Discuss Records

LEGION SEEKS ACTION TO BUY CEMETERY LAND

Following the action taken on January 12 at a meeting of the 22nd district of the American Legion, held at the Albert J. Lentz post here, to ascertain why funds have not been provided by the government to purchase additional land for the National cemetery, the local Legion Monday night adopted a similar resolution and directed Adjutant Paul B. Fox to send copies to U. S. Senators Francis J. Myers and Edward Martin and to Congressman James Lind.

Sixty members of the post attended the regular meeting, at which Commander Raymond Spahr presided. The resolution adopted is similar to the one passed at the district meeting, seeking to have Pennsylvania's legislators find out "what's holding up purchase of additional land for the National cemetery." Wilbur A. Geiselman, commander of the 22nd district and a past commander of Lentz post, said that purchase of the land was authorized at the last session of Congress, but While work on the Fayetteville by-pass portion of the Lincoln highway construction project is "practically complete," the by-pass portion is not expected to be opened to general highway travel before spring.

A spokesman for H. J. Williams Company, Inc., of York, holder of an $868,468.70 contract for completion of the by-pass route, said that while practically all work on the project has been completed it probably will "lay over" until spring before being accepted by the state and opened to traffic.

With the exception of small approaches to a bridge and the travel portion of the bridge itself, the concrete paving of the 3.34-mile by-pass route has been laid, the construction firm spokesman said. The approaches were laid today, leaving only the travel portion of the bridge spanning the P.R.R. tracks to be laid.

The Adams county probation officer, B. E. Bixler, collected $43,199.53 during the past 11 months, from February 1 to December 31, according to his report presented today. The period marks the income since non-support and domestic cases were turned over to the probation officer in addition to the regular probation work.

Of the amount, $2,455.30 was turned over to the county commissioners and clerk of courts for fines and costs. A total of $655.69 was collected for doctor bills, hospital bills and restitution. The remaining $40,088.62 was distributed to the persons from whom support was ordered.

Bixler's records show 204 support cases listed: Seven reconciliations effected; five cases were dismissed by the court; 51 adult persons were on probation and parole, including 39 new cases started during the year. Twenty-two were discharged from probation. Eighty-two calls were made to homes on juvenile probations. The probation officer made 36 investigations, traveled 3,740 miles on work pertaining to the office; ordered 14 cases to court when defendants failed to comply to a notice for their appearance and had 2,233 business calls in his office.

7 NEW TRAFFIC LIGHTS WILL BE INSTALLED HERE

Members of the borough council voted unanimously Monday night, with all members present, to award the contract for the installation of new traffic lights at seven intersections in Gettysburg, Center square not included, to the Swam Electric company of Hanover.

The Hanover firm submitted the low bid to council two weeks ago. Its bid for the seven intersections, exclusive of Center square, totals $7,366. To this must be added $128.80 for manual controls and noise eliminators. Each one of these cost $9.20 per intersection, making the total price of the new traffic signals $7,494.80.

The action in awarding the contract was taken at a special meeting of the borough council held in the council chambers in the engine house at 7:30 p. m.

No Lights In Square

The safety committee submitted a report, signed by Councilmen Wilbur J. Stallsmith, chairman, L. D. Shealer and C. L. Butt, recommending that the bid of the Swam Electric company be accepted and that a contract be entered into for the installation of traffic signals at all of the intersections on which bids were obtained. This would have included lights in Center square, the price for which was $5,693, plus the extra cost of the noise eliminators and manual controls.

Council President H. M. Oyler asked for comment from the finance committee, and Councilman George D. March, its chairman, said: "As chairman of the finance committee I would like to see the square left until we see how we stand financially. Maybe we could get by without the square and put them in at some later date. I don't know where we're going to get the money to pay for them."

Favor Lights In Square

"I guess it's all right to leave the square out," Councilman Stallsmith said. "Sooner or later we will have to put them in the square. It's just a case of deferring it," he added.

Councilman Shealer concurred in Councilman Stallsmith's opinion. He said: "I'd like to see them in the square, however, and we're going to have to put them in later."

Councilman Stallsmith made the motion to accept the Swam bid without the lights in the square, and it was seconded by Councilman Shealer. The motion called for the

FOUR IN FAMILY DIE IN BLAZE

Windber, Pa., Jan. 18 (AP)—Four members of a family of seven perished today in the flames of their one-room home, one and one-half miles west of Cairnbrook in Somerset county. Two others were seriously burned. Only one in the family escaped injury—an 18-month old baby boy.

Lawrence Snyder, 40, coal miner, and a daughter, Gertrude, 12, were taken to a Windber hospital. The girl's condition was reported as critical and the father's as fair.

Dead were the mother, Mrs. Anna Ross Snyder, 29, formerly of Huntingdon county; and her daughters, Nancy Janet, 5, Elizabeth June, 7, and Charlotte, 9. The charred bodies of Mrs. Snyder and Nancy and Elizabeth were found on the floor of the house. Charlotte died of burns in the Windber hospital. The baby, John, suffered no injuries but no one was able to explain how he escaped.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Pysnik, neighbors who discovered the fire and gave the alarm, said they found the baby on the ground outside the house.

NCCJ Roundtable Conducts Meeting

Sponsor tickets for the Roland Hays concert to be held Sunday night under joint sponsorship of the Adams County Round Table of the National Conference of Christians and Jews and the Methodist Presbyterian Sunday Hour are going well, it was reported Monday evening at the regular meeting of the NCCJ held at the YWCA.

Plans for the annual Brotherhood Week program February 13 were discussed. The program will be held at the Majestic theater. The local Ministerium has agreed to cancel services for that Sunday evening, it was reported, to permit parishioners to attend the program. The Gettysburg high school choir will provide the music for the event. Paul Whitmoyer was named as a member of the executive committee of the NCCJ at Monday's meeting.

Club Dinner Will Be Held January 25

The Soroptimist club will hold its monthly dinner meeting Tuesday evening, January 25, at the Shetler house. Mrs. Guyon E. Buehler, treasurer of the North Atlantic district and member of the executive board, will give a talk on a "refreshing course" on the Soroptimist club constitution and by-laws. Mrs. C. T. Ziegler is chairman of the dinner committee. Those unable to attend are asked to notify Miss Esther Hartman not later than Sunday.

Ponzi, The Swindler, Dies In Charity Ward

Rio de Janeiro, Jan. 18 (AP)—Charles Ponzi, whose financial swindles rocked Americans a generation ago, died Saturday in a hospital charity ward. His body still lay unclaimed today in a public morgue.

When death came, he was semi-paralyzed and partly blind. He was unable to move his left arm or leg. Most of the sight had gone from his right eye. He was 71.

Ponzi's colossal financial hoax was perpetrated in 1920. He promised 50 per cent returns on money within 45 days. When he finally was brought to book on charges of using the mails to defraud, federal investigators estimated he had bilked 40,000 Americans of more than $15,000,000.

He was deported from the United States to his native Italy and he came to Brazil in about 1930. Doctors said hardened arteries and a blood clot in the brain caused his death.

Would Let Schools Handle Sports Fund

Harrisburg, Jan. 18 (AP)—The General Assembly was asked to authorize public school athletic groups to handle funds from sports events. It would apply to the Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic association, formed by high schools of the state.

A bill was introduced in the Senate yesterday designed to meet a problem raised by a court decision. It held that funds obtained from use of school property must go into the school district treasury.

The measure, by Sens. John J. Haluska, Cambria, Burton Tarr, Fayette, and William J. Lane, Washington, all Democrats, would permit school boards to authorize school athletic groups to handle such funds.

In addition to allowing use of school property for sports activities, the bill would permit any school group to raise and spend funds in their own names.

Weddings

Adelsberger-Mullen

In a nuptial low mass on Saturday morning at 9 o'clock in St. Joseph's Catholic church, Emmitsburg, Caroline V. Mullen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Edgar Mullen, DePaul street, Emmitsburg, became the bride of Francis Adelsberger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dwen Adelsberger, East Main street, Emmitsburg. The ceremony was performed by the pastor of the couple, the Rev. Francis Stauble.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a green gabardine tailored suit with green accessories and wore a corsage of yellow rosebuds. She used a Rosary during the mass, which was a gift of the groom.

She chose her sister, Ann Mullen, as her maid of honor, who wore a black gabardine suit with black and white accessories and wore a corsage of red rosebuds.

The best man was Eugene Bouey. The ushers were James Adelsberger, brother of the groom, and Eugene Kraemer, cousin of the bride.

The altar was decorated with yellow chrysanthemums and lighted candelabras.

During the mass, Guy A. Baker, Jr., sang "On This Day, O Beautiful Mother" and "O, Lord I Am Not Worthy." The "Ave Maria" and "Mother, At Your Feet We're Kneeling" was sung by Mrs. Marie C. Rosensteel. The accompanist was Mrs. Euphemia Rotering, the church organist. Several selections on the violin were played by Prof. William Sterbinsky, also accompanied by Mrs. Rotering.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride to about 75 guests. Guests from Baltimore, Gettysburg, Blue Ridge Summit, Pikesville and Littlestown attended the wedding and breakfast.

Mrs. Adelsberger is a graduate of St. Euphemia's parochial school and of Emmitsburg high school, class of 1947 and is employed at present at the Emmitsburg Shoe factory. Mr. Adelsberger is also a graduate of St. Euphemia's and of Emmitsburg high school class of 1948. He is employed as a bricklayer and mason by Lawrence Haley.

After a brief wedding trip to an unannounced destination they will reside in the newly furnished apartment of Dr. and Mrs. George H. Riggs, West Main street, Emmitsburg.

Boyd-Koontz

Miss Doris Louise Koontz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Koontz, Harney, became the bride of Raymond Donald Boyd, Littlestown R. 2, on Saturday, January 8 at 3 o'clock in a single ring ceremony performed by the Rev. Arthur W. Garvin, pastor of the United Brethren church of Taneytown. The couple was unattended. A reception was held at the home of the bride in the evening with about 35 guests attending. The couple received many gifts. For the present they will reside at the home of the bride, near Harney.

Johns Hopkins Hands Bullet Quintet Stunning Upset 54-53

Showing an almost unbelievable reversal of form from that exhibited on Saturday in downing Lafayette, the Gettysburg college cagers were handed a stunning upset here Monday evening by an underestimated Johns Hopkins quintet 54-53.

A 15-point uninterrupted scoring spree in four and one-half minutes of play early in the third quarter gave the visitors a 42-31 advantage from which the Bullets never recovered although rallying desperately in the fading minutes.

Almost everything the Bullets did Monday evening was wrong. Passing when they should have shot and vice versa, the Bream-men never hit the stride expected of them and as a result saw their six-game winning streak, which had boosted them to among the top state teams, snapped.

For Johns Hopkins it marked but their second win this season against five reverses.

After holding the advantage throughout the first period which ended 17-14, the Bullets suddenly found their lead wiped out on goals by Forbush, Margolis and Crockett at the opening of the second round. It was nip and tuck the remainder of the half and Gettysburg took a 30-27 margin at half time on goals by Sachs and Boehner.

Locals Collapse
Boehner opened the third stanza with a foul and then the Bullets fell completely apart. A foul by Mitchell was followed by a string seven straight goals by the visitors in the next four and one-half minutes. Most of the goals came on easy lay-ups as the result of faking the Bullet defenders out of position in amazing style. Finally Belber tallied a foul and followed with two goals, the first goal being the Bullets' initial twin-pointer of the half after five minutes and 45 seconds. Johns Hopkins held a 46-40 advantage going into the final period.

With but a minute to go Hopkins won on top 53-46. O'Brien then connected on a long toss. Crockett and Belber matched free tosses. Harris landed a short shot with 40 seconds remaining. The crowd went wild when O'Brien landed another long toss to cut the margin to one-point with 16 seconds remaining.

There was plenty of action in the remaining seconds. Rushing the Johns Hopkins players all over the floor after the visitors took possession of the leather, two fouls on Bullet players were promptly taken out of bounds. With only five seconds remaining a jump ball was called and Coach Bream inserted White to attempt to outjump a Hopkins player. The ruse failed when the Baltimore team gained the ball and another foul was called against Gettysburg but Forbush missed the first chance and the second was taken out of bounds, the game ending almost immediately thereafter.

Freshmen Win
The Bullet freshmen almost blew the preliminary game to the St. Mary's Boys club of York but rallied to win their fourth in as many starts 57-50. St. Mary's put on a fast finish to shave a Bullet lead to but one-point midway in the final period.

Western Maryland college will meet the Bullet varsity here Saturday night at 8:15 o'clock. There will be no preliminary game.

IKE WILLIAMS BEATS BRATTON

Philadelphia, Jan. 18 (AP)—It looks like it will take more than a broken fist and the present crop of lightweight to stop deadpan Ike Williams, king of the 135 pounders.

The Trenton, N. J., Negro returned to the ring last night after a two-month layoff because of a broken hand. Before his fight with clever Johnny Bratton of Chicago the burning questions were: "Will the hardy warrior Ike and can the fast stepping Bratton upset the dope?"

The answer was given by Williams in the ring as he pounded the Chicagoan to gain a unanimous 10-round decision. Both fighters tipped the scales at 138.

Ike said the hand worried him a little but it would be hard to prove that to the satisfaction of 8,015 fans who saw the champion stifle the bid of a game, plucky and clever boxer.

While Williams won with a 7-3 verdict from Judge Harry Lasky; a 6-2-2 nod from Judge Leo Costello and a surprisingly close 5-4-1 decision from Referee Charley Daggett, he knew he was in a fight.

A blood-smeared Bratton actually dared the champion to come out and fight in the eighth round and then punctuated his challenge with a right hand to the jaw that stunned Williams momentarily. Bratton danced and jabbed but the 21-year-old boxer just didn't have the overall ability to lick a fighter of Williams' caliber.

ST. LOUIS U. IS TOP COURT TEAM

New York, Jan. 18 (AP)—Unbeaten St. Louis university today voted the top college basketball team in the nation.

In a coast to coast poll, first in the sport ever conducted by the Associated Press, the brilliant Billikens from Missouri received 69 first-place votes out of 93 ballots to lead runner-up Kentucky by a wide margin. Coach Ed Hickey's fast-breaking crew has whipped 11 straight foes this season.

Western Kentucky, one of the country's five undefeated fives, placed third with 545 points. Only team to be mentioned for all 10 places, the Hilltoppers squeezed out only two firsts, but bagged 43 thirds to edge out fourth-place Minnesota. The Oklahoma Aggies, only other team to receive first-place mention, landed fifth place on three firsts and 289 points.

BUS FARES UP
Harrisburg, Jan. 18 (AP)—Bus fares in Lebanon and street car and bus fares in Reading will go up Feb. 16 under a new tariff of the Reading street railway company serving the two cities. The company yesterday filed a new schedule with the Public Utility commission which it estimated would bring $200,000 a year more.

KILLED BY CAR
Philadelphia, Jan. 18 (AP)—Harry Jones, 84, partner in the Ideal Hosiery Mills, was killed by an automobile last night as he stepped from a traffic island, police reported. The driver of the car, Hans Fischer, 45, was arrested on a charge of involuntary manslaughter.

GHS Plays Tonight At Mechanicsburg

The Gettysburg high school cagers, who are given the only chance of over-taking Chambersburg in the first half race of the South Penn Basketball league, journey to Mechanicsburg tonight for an engagement with the Wildcats.

Coach Forney's Maroons are one full game behind the unbeaten Trojans with but three games remaining in the half.

On Friday the Maroons will meet Hanover here and wind up the first half by meeting Chambersburg on the latter's floor next Tuesday.

Pro Football Peace Maneuvers Hit Lull

Chicago, Jan. 18 (AP)—Mum was the word on pro football peace maneuvering today as the All American conference opened a three-day meeting with a secret huddle.

Officials of both the AAC and the National Football league, which begins its annual winter parley tomorrow night, refuse to admit that new peace tactics are in the air. But they would not be surprised—in fact, probably disappointed—if there weren't a knock on the door during the week and talks resumed.

They all would like to see a halt in the crippling pro football war which has cost the 18 clubs of both circuits approximately $8,000,000 in three years. But there is a stalemate stubbornness on both sides.

Philadelphia, Jan. 18 (AP)—Erik Ahlden, the Swedish 5,000-meter champion, says that "American impatience" is the reason why the United States doesn't turn out distance track winners.

In Philadelphia for a luncheon prior to his first American appearance Friday at the Philadelphia Inquirer games, Ahlden yesterday put his finger on this country's failures at the longer distance. "Your runners don't get in condition," he said.

Madison, Wis., Jan. 18 (AP)—Ivan (Red) Williamson, Lafayette college football coach, is on the Wisconsin University campus today, getting "acquainted" with the men who may name him to succeed head grid mentor Harry Stuhldreher.

Williamson met last night with members of the Wisconsin Athletic board and announced he would remain here today to meet Dr. E. B. Fred, the university's president who did not attend last night's session.

MARKSMEN WILL VIE FOR WHITE FLYER TROPHY

An open shoot for the White Flyer championship of Adams county is scheduled to be held Saturday afternoon at the Hunterstown Gun club, Delbert Brown, president of the club announced today.

The firing for the trophy in which Robert Thompson will be seeking to win permanent possession, will be held in connection with an all Saturday afternoon shooting match at the gun club. Prizes, in addition to the special trophy event, will include a first prize of a hind quarter of beef, a second prize of a front quarter of beef, turkeys, Woolrich clothing and hams. The shoots are open to the public.

The White Flyer championship shoot started in 1938 when Eugene Lerew of York Springs won the title. He was challenged in 1939 by Robert Thompson who won that year and then won for the second time in 1940. After that the event was suspended because of the war, being resumed this year. Three successive wins gives permanent possession of the trophy.

Organized 35 years ago, by a group of men who got together to hold shooting matches, the club plans to use any profits it may make from the shoots toward construction of a new building. President Brown said. Its former building was blown down in a storm a year ago.

Members of the organization pride themselves on the fact that their club maintains a tradition for marksmanship skill that has been in existence in the Hunterstown area since the pre-Revolutionary days. Riflemen gathered there for matches back in the early days of the county, they hold, and most of those riflemen made up a company at Hunterstown to fight under Washington in the Revolutionary war. Shooting matches have been held in the area since that time, officers of the organization point out. Ralph Kessel is secretary of the group and C. Arthur Brame, Sr., is treasurer.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Jan. 18 (AP)—Most basketball coaches consider the zone defense an anathema—except a few die-hards who keep winning games with it. . . . Now there's a hint or two that some of the others are coming around to the zone idea. . . . At yesterday's basketball lunch, Ray Meyer of De Paul, Howard Cann of NYU and Frank McGuire of St. John's all figured they'd seen more of the zone this season than in previous years, though it was used mostly as a change-off from the customary man-to-man style. . . . "It's a sort of co-operative zone they've been using against us," Meyer explained. "They fall way back and switch off when necessary." . . . Cann, who argues that the system is mis-named because "it's more an offense than defense," adds: "The players don't like to play it or play against it; the coaches don't like it; the spectators don't like it—but we'll probably use it sometime when we're behind." . . . The negative votes were cast by two Ivy league coaches, Cap-py Cappon of Princeton and Gordon Ridings of Columbia. They agreed Yale is the only zone team in their league.

SILENT REBUKE

Walt Kennedy, the pro Basketball Association of America drummer who used to perform the same chore at Notre Dame, tells this one. . . . The Irish, then coached by the late George Keogan, were playing a tough game against Pitt. . . . The second half seemed to be lasting interminably and Notre Dame's lead was dwindling rapidly. It was a race against time. . . . Finally Keogan went to the timer's bench where a student manager, Charley Spangenberg, was serving as official time keeper. . . . "How much time left?" he asked. . . . Spangenberg looked at the watch, shook it and exclaimed: "Why, the darn thing isn't working." . . . Without a word, Kennedy arose, Keogan grabbed the timer's pistol, placed it against Spangenberg's head and pulled the trigger. . . . The gun wasn't working, either.

Says Meat Prices Are Down 20 Pct.

Chicago, Jan. 18 (AP)—The general wholesale price of all meat has dropped 20 per cent from the mid-September peak, says the American meat institute.

Retail prices, the institute said, also "show some sharp average declines." It said pork chops have dropped an average of 26 per cent from the September prices; round steak 25 per cent; chuck roasts 22 per cent; leg of lamb 17 per cent, and lamb chops and hamburger 13 per cent.

The retail figures were supplied the AMI by chain and other retail stores in the Chicago market which it said closely approximate those for the entire country.

Lard has shown the greatest price decline of any meat produce in the past year, the institute said. It now is selling approximately 29 per cent under a year ago.

East Berlin high school moved into a tie with New Oxford for second place in the Adams County Boys' cage league by defeating York Springs 41-25 on the latter's court Monday evening in the lone game scheduled.

The victors, who were paced by Myers with 20 points, jumped into a 14-8 lead in the first period and were never seriously threatened.

D. Guise led the York Springs cagers with nine tallies.

In the preliminary game the York Springs reserves won easily 35-19.

Mountain scout camp and Mr. Tee-ter discussed the annual finance campaign to be conducted from February 15 to 25 in the district outside of Gettysburg. Scout funds in Gettysburg will be provided by the Community Chest.

Field Representative David M. Dickson urged scout troops to plan special observance of Boy Scout Week from February 6 to 12 by holding parents' night programs, arranging window displays, attending church services or some other activities.

Dickson also said that in the last quarter of 1948, 10 new scouts were recruited in the district and 18 advancements made. He announced plans for a council merit badge show February 9, 10 and 11 in the American Legion hall in Hanover.

Reports on activities of Troops 75 (Jardville-Gardners); 76, Gettysburg; 88, Cashtown-Fairfield; and 78, Gettysburg, were made by troop representatives.

Mr. Dickson outlined the 1949 calendar of scouting events that includes camping activities at the Dillsburg camp beginning June 26.

Lemmon collapsed after removing the sign, and spent a long time in the hospital recovering. When he applied for workman's compensation the referee for the workman's compensation board approved the claim. Which pays the claims, appealed from the referee's finding, claiming that the cerebral hemorrhage was due to some defect in Lemmon and not to the work.

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and
The Gettysburg Times

FIFTY YEARS AGO
Inauguration of Governor Stone:
The interest of the throngs at Harrisburg on Tuesday, (January 17) was divided between the inauguration of Governor Stone and the balloting for a United States Senator. The inauguration of Governor Stone was one of the most brilliant State events in the annals of the Commonwealth. . . .

The day was bright and invigorating and the parade and inauguration were brilliant events. . . . There was a grand turn out of the militia in the parade, nearly 5,000 men being in line, including all the new regiments formed since the breaking out of war with Spain. Congressman M. E. Olmsted was chief marshal of the parade. . . . A reception was given at the Executive Mansion in the evening by Governor Stone, which was largely attended.

Vote for a United States Senator:
The joint vote of the Pennsylvania legislature for U. S. Senator on Tuesday was:

Quay (Republican) 112; Jenks (Democrat) 84; Dalzell (Republican) 15; Stone (Republican) 9. . . .

A fifth ballot will be taken next Tuesday.

Death's Doings: Miss Tillie Gillespie died on Tuesday of grip and infirmities of old age at her home on Baltimore street at the age of 79. She was one of the oldest music teachers in this place. Many of our towns people received their first music lessons from her. She was for many years organist of St. James Lutheran church. For a number of years she has been living with Miss Eliza Bosserman.

The funeral will be held on Friday afternoon, Rev. A. R. Steck, officiating. Interment will be at Evergreen cemetery. Pallbearers will be Messrs. Amos Eckert, G. E. Spangler, C. A. Blocher and Hon. S. McC. Swope. The college church choir will sing "One Sweetly Solemn Thought" and "Some Blessed Day."

Local Miscellany: Horses should be well blanketed and not left standing in the open air long in this bad weather. Several people noticed a team standing in the Center Square for a long time in the disagreeable weather last Thursday.

It was surprising last week to see the number of people who developed "middle of the road" tendencies. John King and William Arentz, of Two Taverns, sold 400 musk rat hides and 15 racoon hides the past season.

Marriages: Garrick — Mummert, Jan. 12, in Littlestown, by Rev. L. A. Mann, Emory E. Garrick to Miss Hattie S. Mummert, both of Mount-jay township.

Peters-Myers: Jan. 10, at York Springs, by Rev. L. M. Gardner, Charles H. Peters, of Menallen township, to Miss Jennie E. Myers, of Tyrone township.

Redding-Althoff: Jan. 17, in this place, by Rev. H. S. Christ, Vincent A. Redding, of Cumberland township, to Miss Mary L. Althoff, of this place.

Hon. Wm. McSherry Dead: Hon. William McSherry died at his home in Littlestown on Tuesday (January 10), in the 78th year of his age.

William McSherry, born in Littlestown, was a son of James, who was a son of Patrick McSherry, a native of Ireland. William graduated from Mt. St. Mary's college, Emmitsburg, in 1840, at the age of 19. He was admitted to the bar in 1842. He opened a law office in this place and practiced law until 1846. Hon. James Cooper, subsequently United States Senator, was associated with him. In 1847 Mr. McSherry was elected to the Pennsylvania House of Representatives on the Whig ticket and in 1849 was again elected to fill a vacancy caused by the election of Gen. James Cooper to the United States Senate, was again elected as representative in 1851; and was elected in 1862 and in 1871 to the State Senate. . . . During all his official life he served with marked ability.

Deceased was twice married, his first wife being a daughter of Dr. Richard McSherry. She died many

Today's Talk

ON BEING CORRECTED

In these talks I frequently quote and refer to people and books. I delight in calling to the attention of those who read these brief talks interesting and inspiring human beings, as well as books that I have read.

Recently I made two bad errors. I called John Buchanan an Englishman. He was a Scotsman. Scottish people are a proud and wonderful race. Far be it from me to take one speck of their glory or pride from them. I was glad to have a reader correct me. When I referred to Gibran as an Indian. He was not. He was a Syrian, born in Lebanon. As I wrote about him I confused him with Tagore, who was an Indian—but both are men whom I have long admired and loved.

James Boswell, who wrote the greatest biography of a man—Dr. Samuel Johnson—was a Scotsman, and the old Doctor took sly joy in poking fun at his friends. We are all proud of the nationality to which we have been born, but it is what any of us are that counts in the final summing up.

We should always be very glad, however, to have others correct us where our information, or memory, has slipped up on us. Often we make mistakes unthinkingly. It is well, and appreciated, when we are corrected. The purpose of these brief talks is to inspire, trying to share my own joy and discoveries with those who may read what I have to say.

We are put into this world to help other people, and to be helped, in turn, by them. We should always welcome being corrected where we have been in error. I apologize for any errors that I may have made. Thomas Hardy and George Meredith once met and talked. Hardy spoke of his first book as "very strange and wild." Meredith corrected him, suggesting the word "promising" for the word "wild." It was this corrective encouragement that made Hardy decide to devote himself to literature.

Now that a New Year is upon us, we can think many things over, and make all our corrections in a kindly spirit, becoming more tolerant and understanding, thus improving our lot in life, and that of others as well.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "City of the Mind."

Just Folks

SHE'S ENGAGED

She's engaged! and in her eyes
Are the stars of all the skies,
And no shadow can eclipse
That bright smile upon her lips.

Now she trips along the street
As if dancing to the beat
Of some captivating song.
In her world there's nothing wrong.

On her cheeks a radiance glows
Like the diamond she shows,
And the old and wiser grown
Wish such rapture they could own.

She's engaged! Oh maiden sweet,
Such a joy life can't repeat!
But whatever comes of care
May his love remain to share.

RUSS DIPLOMATS USE TACTICS OF OLD COPS' TRICK

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Jan. 18 (AP)—I'd like to know what cops think of the business the diplomats call foreign affairs. I mean, like dealing with Joe Stalin and Mr. Molotov.

Cops are very direct and down to earth. They know people, and how people act and react, and they don't have any illusions except maybe about themselves.

I used to know a whole bunch of cops, for years, covering the police beat in New Orleans, and I never got over how they could work all the angles with some fancy trimmings.

The "Old One-Two"

Sometimes when they wanted something very much, like getting a guy to admit a stick-up, they put on an act, a tough-guy-sof-guy act which they used to call the old one-two.

Mr. Tough-cop would take the stick-up man into a room alone and open up with "look, we got you nailed, so you start talking, and I mean right now, and I don't want any trouble and if I get any trouble you get plenty of it and I don't want any time to spend."

But something in the stick-up man would freeze and he wouldn't give, or he couldn't give, but Mr. tough-cop got tougher, and nothing happened. And finally Mr. sof-cop came in and listened to Mr. tough-cop and said:

"Cut it out, Joe. Take a walk. Let the guy alone, you're too tough. This guy's in a jam. He's in it up to his neck, but he's all right and you don't have to rough him around. That's all right on somebody else but you don't have to work it on him. Take a walk."

Mr. Soft-cop Takes Over

Then Mr. soft-cop took over, and gave the stick-up man a cigarette and said "I want to ask a few questions but let's get some coffee first." And he'd send for coffee.

And the stick-up man was so surprised he thought it was wonderful and before he knew it he opened up. So I think about the cops in New Orleans when I read about the conferences the diplomats have with Mr. Stalin and Mr. Molotov, the Russian foreign minister.

Mr. Molotov is square-built, and he looks like a precinct captain from the back, and he has a square jaw. The stories always give the idea he's a tough man to do business with.

Looks Different Later

And just about the time the other diplomats figure he's too tough and the whole thing's hopeless, in walks Mr. Stalin—kind of relaxed, friendly-like, easy-going, mild—and takes over.

And he gives what looks like an inch here, or a foot there, and the diplomats go away, figuring business would be better if they could do business with Mr. Stalin all the time.

And it may be a long time afterwards that it seems Stalin didn't give anything. And maybe that's the way the old team of Stalin and Molotov figured in the first place, since they've been working together 35 years: The old one-two, with Molotov being tough and Stalin being soft if he had to.

BAD WEATHER IN MIDWEST AGAIN

(By The Associated Press)

Another batch of bad weather moved into the storm-harassed mid-continent today.

An area from the eastern Rockies to the Texas Panhandle braced for a new wave of snow, sleet, rain and cold.

Near blizzard conditions were forecast for the Dakotas, Montana, Nebraska and parts of Minnesota. Strong winds and snow hit the section today and sharp drops in temperatures were predicted for tonight. Lows of 15 to 25 below were forecast for North Dakota and 15 below in South Dakota and Minnesota.

Freezing rain fell today from northeastern Texas and Oklahoma northeastward into southern Indiana. Sleet and snow storms were in prospect for most of the north central and southwestern states.

Meanwhile, hundreds of motorists stranded by heavy snows in New Mexico were picked up by rescue trains. They left their cars in the huge drifts but highway crews were busy clearing roads in the path of the heavy fall of snow which blanketed the southern half of New Mexico.

Temperatures continued mild in the southeastern states and in most of the eastern states. Cooler weather was forecast for southern California but no severe below freezing readings were expected.

Berlin, Jan. 18 (AP)—Creation of a permanent security police force to see that Germany remains disarmed was stated Monday by the United States, Great Britain and France. The tri-power force, called a military security board, is designed to take over the demilitarization functions of the inoperative Allied Control Council, which the Russians wrecked by withdrawal.

Boy Changes Plea In Playmate's Death

Jersey City, N. J., Jan. 18 (AP)—Fifteen-year-old Fred Smigelski has changed his plea from innocent to no defense to a charge of murder in the slaying of an 11-year-old playmate.

Smigelski, one of the youngest murder defendants in the state's history, faces possible life imprisonment. The plea precludes the death penalty.

He composed himself as he returned to the court room after earlier hysterics, and stood before the bench with head bowed and shoulders slumped. Sentencing was set for Jan. 28.

The Smigelski boy is accused of killing his companion in an abandoned warehouse in September, 1947. The FBI, called into the case when 11-year-old Jackie Preston was listed first as a kidnap victim, said Smigelski had signed a statement admitting he killed his little playmate just to prove he was "no sissy."

MARK FRANKLIN ANNIVERSARY

Philadelphia, Jan. 18 (AP)—President Truman, with a wreath sent from Washington, headed national, state and city dignitaries commemorating the 243rd birthday of Benjamin Franklin.

The anniversary was celebrated here yesterday with pilgrimages to historic Franklin shrines and with tributes to the illustrious American in churches, schools and public forums.

President Truman's floral tribute was placed on Franklin's grave in Christ church burial ground. Gov. James H. Duff sent a wreath in behalf of the Commonwealth and Mayor Bernard Samuel placed one for the city of Philadelphia.

Governor Duff later addressed some 250,000 Philadelphia school children and "town meetings" for adults held in 36 city schools over a special telephone hookup in two separate talks.

An all-day program by the Poor Richard club, named for Franklin, was climaxed by the club's 44th annual banquet at the Bellevue-Stratford hotel.

During the banquet Dr. Vladimir K. Zworykin, whose research in the field of electronics figured prominently in the development of television, was presented the club's 1949 gold medal of achievement. The gold medal winner is vice president and technical consultant to Radio Corporation of America Laboratories Division, Princeton, N. J., and a member of the National academy of sciences and the French academy of science.

Littlestown

Littlestown—With the inauguration of highway postoffice service by bus between Lancaster and Washington and Harrisburg over routes which include Gettysburg and Littlestown, Postmaster Clarence L. Schwartz has announced a new schedule for the arrival and departure of mails from Littlestown effective today: Arrival of mails, daily except Sunday: 6:55 a. m. from all points; 9:10 a. m. from the South and points here to Frederick, Md.; 9:15 a. m. from all points (parcel post star route); 3:40 p. m. from the West and County; 5:20 p. m. from all points. Departure of mails, daily except Sunday: 6:55 a. m. to the West and County (air connection); 9:10 a. m. to all points (air connection); 5:20 p. m. to the South and points to Frederick; 6:30 p. m. to all points (air connection, star route). On Sunday, mails arrive and depart 6:30 p. m. to and from all points (air connection, star route).

Mrs. Ray Reichart, Littlestown R. 2, will be hostess to the Missionary society of St. Luke's church, White Hall, on Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Holy Communion will be administered Sunday morning at 9 o'clock in St. Mark's Reformed church along the Gettysburg pike, the Rev. Dr. Howard Schley Fox, pastor. A congregational meeting will also be held at the same service.

Miss Arveta Feeser, a student at the State Teachers' college, Indiana, Pa., spent several days vacation between the semesters at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John F. Feeser, East King street extended.

The monthly meeting of the Gettysburg Classis Ministerium of the Reformed church was held on Monday afternoon at the parsonage of Emmanuel Reformed church, Hanover, the Rev. Nevin E. Smith, host pastor. The Rev. Thomas Burns, Jr., Fairfield, president, presided and the Rev. H. E. Sheely, Hanover, presented the secretary's report. Opening devotions were conducted by the host pastor. There was a discussion on the program of World Service in the Reformed church. The Rev. Mr. Sheely, who is chairman of the World Service committee for Mercersburg Synod reported that the denomination is in the midst of a campaign to raise $3,000.00. Although the campaign does not close until July, 1950, a strenuous effort is being made to raise a large portion of this amount during the Lenten season of 1949. Mercersburg Synod's quota of this sum is approximately $116,000. There was also discussion on the contemplated merger of the Evangelical and Reformed church and the Congregational-Christian churches. The topic of the afternoon was "The Religious Program at Ocean Grove, N. J." This subject was discussed by the Rev. William Banks, pastor of Grace Reformed church, Hanover, who with his family have been attending a portion of this program for the past 11 years. Those attending the meeting were: The Rev. Thomas Burns, Jr., Fairfield; The Revs. William Banks, A. C. Renoll, Nevin E. Smith, H. E. Sheely and Dr. M. J. Roth, Hanover; the Rev. Albert E. Shenberger, Carlisle; the Revs. Frank E. Reynolds, Charles B. Rebert and John C. Brumbach, Littlestown; the Rev. Archie Rohrbach, New Oxford; the Rev. Dr. Howard Schley Fox, Gettysburg; the Rev. Nevin Franz, Arendtsville, and the Rev. Franklin Glassmoyer, Spring Grove. Closing devotions were conducted by the Rev. Mr. Shenberger. Following the meeting, refreshments were served by the Rev. and Mrs. Nevin E. Smith. The next meeting will be held February 21 at Trinity Reformed parsonage, Hanover, with the Rev. H. E. Sheely, host pastor and the Rev. Dr. A. C. Renoll will discuss "Released Time."

Dr. George R. Miller, professor of physics, Gettysburg college, was guest speaker on Monday evening at York Council No. 21, Royal and Select Masters, Masonic temple, York. His subject was, "Nuclear Energy." Also present at the meeting were W. Preston Hull, Gettysburg; and Samuel H. Higinbotham and the Rev. John C. Brumbach, Littlestown.

The monthly meeting of the Ladies' Aid society of Bart's E. U. B. church, Union township, will be held Thursday at 7:30 p. m., at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Shue. Mrs. Lester Shue and Kathryn Karichuf

11,689 MINERS GET PENSIONS

Washington, Jan. 18 (AP)—Hundred-dollar-a-month pensions now are being paid to 11,689 retired soft coal miners.

This and other facts about the United Mine Workers' Welfare and Retirement fund were disclosed by John L. Lewis in a report issued over the week-end.

Since the fund began operating 20 months ago, 1,000,000 checks have been mailed to 260,123 soft coal miners or their families, the UMW president announced. The average age of the retired miners receiving pensions is 64. They had an average of 35 years in the mines.

A death benefit of $1,000 has been paid to widows of 10,489 miners. Bulk of total payments goes to the disabled, their widows, orphans and other dependents.

will be in charge of the program. The monthly meeting of the Young Men's Bible class, Redeemer's Reformed church of which Dr. Richard M. Phreaner is the teacher, will be held Wednesday at 7:30 p. m., in the social hall of the church.

The fund is financed by a royalty of 20 cents a ton on soft coal produced by union miners. Lewis did not announce how much money is in the fund, but it is believed to be about $50,000,000.

MAY TOUGHEN PENALTIES IN GAME LAWS

Harrisburg, Jan. 18 (AP)—Proposals for stiffer penalties for illegal hunting today topped a list of sweeping revisions of the state game laws in the Senate hopper.

Sen. C. Arthur Blass (R-Erie) introduced the measures yesterday. He said he had the backing of the State commission.

His measure would:

Permit seizure of the hunting weapons of persons mentally and physically incapacitated.

Require permanent suspension of non-resident hunting licenses when the holders kill game out of season, use spotlights in hunters or buy or sell illegally killed game. Resident hunting licenses would be suspended for three instead of two years for such offenses.

Increase from $100 to $200 the fine for illegally killing bear.

Repeal the power of local hunters to set aside antlerless deer seasons once they are established by the Game commission.

Change the hunting license period from September through August 31 to October 1 through September 30.

Increase the bonds of issuing agents of hunting licenses.

Establish as lawful male deer those with a branch from the main antler measuring 1 1/4 inches from the crotch to the tip.

In another measure, Sen. Charles Mallory (R-Bair) proposed lifelong hunting licenses for everyone 65 years or more at a fixed fee.

Residing hunting licenses would be boosted from $2 to $3.65 and non-resident licenses from $15 to $25 at the end of the current hunting season under a measure introduced by Sen. Fred P. Hare, Jr. (A-Somerset).

CITES NEEDS OF UNIFICATION

Pittsburgh, Jan. 18 (AP)—The armed services must bridge the "wide gap in their knowledge and education about each other" before unification can be completed, says Defense Secretary James B. Forrestal.

Development of an understanding between the various service branches is the paramount issue now at stake, Forrestal told a meeting of the Pittsburgh chamber of commerce last night.

"They are united by a common purpose," he said, "but there is a wide gap in their knowledge and education about each other. This problem will have to be attacked by all levels and in many forms. It will have to begin with as much mutual education as possible and as early in the careers of officers as possible."

Forrestal said plans are underway for harnessing the industrial resources of the Pittsburgh area in the event of any future military emergency. The munitions board, he said, is making an allocations program survey of plants which produce materials needed for military use.

The cabinet member arrived a few minutes before the chamber of commerce dinner began after his plane was forced to circle over Pittsburgh two hours because of poor weather.

TOLL BRIDGES IN LIMELIGHT

Harrisburg, Jan. 18 (AP)—Legislation to free the last 10 privately owned toll bridges in Pennsylvania took a top spot today in the Legislature picture.

Gov. James H. Duff was described by Sen. George N. Wade (R-Cumberland) as taking a personal hand in the drafting of measure designed to avoid past pitfalls in the unsuccessful 20-year campaign to take over the spans.

"We have been working with the Governor and he has assigned a deputy attorney general to help us draft legislation," Wade told the Senate. He added GOP State Chairman M. Harvey Taylor, Dauphin county senator, will be a co-sponsor.

He made the disclosure in rejecting the suggestion of Sen. Joseph J. Yosko (D-Northampton) that all lawmakers from districts with toll spans sit down and agree on one plan instead of four or five.

Yosko made public a letter to the other lawmakers urging the conference and suggesting that everyone refrain from introducing any bills on the subject until an agreement is reached.

Wade, however, said he intended to go ahead with his plans without awaiting any conference that "is the Democratic way."

HER SECRET STAR

Chapter 10

"Moves like a whirlwind, doesn't she?" her father would comment to Betty. "Looks like little Gertie getting to be about the most popular girl in town. Funny—she never says where she's going." The anxious look on his face was cancelled by a note of pride in his voice.

During his wife's illness David had been the perfect, solicitous husband. He was always available when needed, but never underfoot. He called in Mrs. Bassett to attend to the cooking and housework, leaving Betty free to attend to the patient.

There had been no change in doctors. From the first, young Doctor Newton was obviously quite capable of handling the situation. He had proved himself as far as the Warrens were concerned. And now that he had pulled Minniebelle through a serious spell of pneumonia, David Warren was his staunch ally.

And Betty had been useful. Doctor Newton, although he was still strangely aloof and behaved almost as if he expected she might bite him, had come to rely on her. In fact, he had condescended to say so. Last week, when he finally dismissed the case, he had gone so far as to say:

"You've been a swell nurse, Betty, a real trouper. You're looking kind of peaked, too. Now that your aunt is well and summer is here, you should be getting out, going places, and having a little fun."

Then he had spoiled everything by adding, "Remind me one of these days and I'll take you over to Alden, if I'm not too busy. Finest beach in the country there. Water's still too cold to do much swimming. But I could park you on the sand while I read a book or something. It would give you a chance to soak in some sunshine and get some color into your face. You should use a little color. You're much too pale."

"Remind him!" stormed Betty, and turned away from the window, losing interest in the scene before her. "You'd think he was doing me a big favor. I never heard of anything so presumptuous!"

She went over to the dressing table and sat down, stared at her reflection in the mirror. "So I'm too pale, am I? And I can sun myself on the beach—like a dope or something—while he reads a book. Well!" It annoyed her all the more to realize that the reflection in the mirror was not at all reassuring. She was too pale—but who wouldn't be after weeks indoors taking care of a sick woman?

Reluctantly, she had to admit that Doctor Newton was right—to a certain extent. In a manner of speaking, she was falling apart. Yes, she could use a little sunshine; she could use a little fun too.

Mrs. Bassett called up the stairway to say that Doctor Newton was on the phone and wanted to speak to her. He had remembered. Upon hearing her carefully casual "Hello," he said:

"I'm declaring a half-holiday and taking a run out to Alden this afternoon. Want to come along?" Without waiting for an answer, he added, "So get out your sun suit. I'll pick you up around one o'clock.

Suddenly it seemed very important to Betty that she say "Yes." In a few minutes he'd get mad and withdraw the invitation.

"Okay, then. I'll be seeing you at one o'clock sharp. Be sure you're ready. Doctor's orders, you know," he added in a bantering tone.

His lapse into facetiousness disarmed Betty. "Of course I'll be ready," she said, uncomfortably aware that a note of eagerness had crept into her voice.

"Good girl—Betty. Good-bye now," he said, and hung up the receiver before she could say another word.

She spent the rest of the morning washing and drying her hair and going through her clothes, as if trying to decide what to wear. It was, more or less, a perfunctory gesture. She knew very well what she would wear.

Arriving promptly at one o'clock, he sounded the car horn and, even as Betty ran down the front steps, she was conscious of his eyes upon her. His lips parted and something that sounded suspiciously like a wolf-call emerged.

There was no lack of color in Betty's face now, although she told herself firmly, "It couldn't be a wolf-call. It just couldn't. He would never, never do anything so undignified—or human."

His lapse was brief. Just as Betty was beginning to suspect that George Newton, the doctor, and George Newton, the man, were two separate personalities, his face went grim. He started the car with a jerk that almost threw Betty against the windshield. She could draw only one conclusion, he resented her presence and regretted having asked her to come along.

He maneuvered the car into the roadway, then turned north. Alden Beach was in the other direction, but he offered no explanation and Betty resolved to ask no questions. She would be just as hateful as he was, she decided. Presently he said:

"Hang it all—I should have phoned you and called the whole thing off. I should have my head examined. I might have known—"

"Then why didn't you call it off?" Betty exploded, her voice shaking with indignation and hurt pride. "If you think you're doing me a favor—well, you're very much mistaken. If I never see your precious Alden Beach, I can bear it. I'd thank you to stop right here. I—I'll get out and walk back."

TO ACT SOON ON RENT CONTROLS

Washington, Jan. 18 (AP)—Vice President-elect Barkley said after a White House conference Monday that Congress will act soon to extend rent and export controls.

Democratic leaders from the Senate and the House conferred with President Truman. Barkley said they had a general discussion of the legislative program but reached no decisions as to what bill will be taken up first.

But he said rent and export controls will be among the early ones. The present rent control law expires March 31. The administration is asking for a two-year extension of the law in tightened form.

For more immediate action, congressional leaders have ticketed first a pay raise for the President and, second, Senate approval of Dean Acheson to be the new secretary of state.

Completing the organization of Congress comes ahead of that. To do that, House Democrats called a meeting to okay their committee assignments and a shake-up that boots two southern Democrats off the Un-American Activities committee and puts on an all-lawyer team.

The White House conference of Democratic leaders was one of the regular Monday morning meetings that Mr. Truman plans to hold regularly while Congress is in session.

PA. DEMOCRATS BACK PLANS FOR NEW AUTHORITY

Harrisburg, Jan. 18 (AP)—Democratic lawmakers got away first today with proposals for revival of a general state building authority and a $500,000,000 soldier bonus.

The militant minority in the General Assembly also submitted bills to establish a Fair Employment Practices Commission and to drastically revise most of the labor laws enacted by the 1947 Legislature.

Gov. James H. Duff urged the recreation of the state authority abolished four years ago by Republicans, to take over the financing of the state's long-range construction program. The authority would issue bonds to pay construction costs and pay them off with rentals from the state.

Backs Authority
Rep. H. C. Andrews (D-Cambria), House Democratic leader, who fought the abolition of the authority four years ago, introduced a bill to re-establish it. His measure followed the exact pattern of the old law except the authority would be empowered to take over institutions already built.

Andrews explained that he hoped some of the millions already spent from current taxes might be recovered by turning the completed hospitals over to the authority. The resulting funds, he added, would help finance increased current needs without new taxation.

The soldiers' bonus measure—a constitutional amendment to permit a $500,000,000 bond issue to pay the bonus—was offered by Reps. David Weiss and Charles Mills (both D-Westmoreland) in the House.

Identical Measures
It is identical with the proposal adopted unanimously by the Legislature two years ago. Republicans plan to submit an identical measure in the Senate when it reconvenes today.

The Democratic labor program called for 75 cents an hour minimum wage and a 44-hour work week and would take away from the courts the power to issue restraining orders or temporary injunctions in most labor disputes.

WASHINGTON IS EXCITED ABOUT INAUGURATION

By MAX HALL

Washington, Jan. 18 (AP) — Harry Truman, a man with a pay raise and a new lease, gets out his dinner jacket today and starts celebrating.

His inauguration for a new term as President will take place at noon (EST) Thursday. This flag-decked city of nearly 1,000,000 is considerably agitated about it, with the prospect of several hundred thousand visitors adding themselves to the confusion.

Mr. Truman has just about finished revising his inaugural address. It is expected to be a foreign policy speech primarily, although it would not be surprising if he also talks about his "fair deal" domestic program as a foundation for foreign policy.

Festivities Begin
Yesterday Congress completed action on a bill raising the President's regular salary from $75,000 to $100,000 a year, and raising his tax-free expense allowance from $40,000 to $90,000.

Tonight Mr. Truman and his family are drawn into the storm of festivities that has begun roaring here. They will break bread with 2,350 members of the Truman-Barkley club at a formal dinner.

That's only the beginning. Tomorrow the President appears at a Democratic party luncheon... then a reception given by the governor of Missouri... then a dinner of the presidential electors... then a fantastic concert and stage show known as the "Inaugural Gala," to be held in a huge armory.

Plan Mammoth Parade
On Thursday, the big day, Mr. Truman will take the presidential oath at the capitol for a four-year term, after having been President for 3 years, 9 months, and about 8 days. Then comes a mammoth parade up Pennsylvania avenue to the White House with volleys of warplanes shooting across the sky.

When he first became President there was no inaugural address, no parade, no celebration. The nation was hushed in a great tragedy. Franklin D. Roosevelt had died.

Two Pennsylvanians On Crashed Bomber

Salina, Kas., Jan. 18 (AP)—The Smoky Hill Air Force base today announced the names of 20 men aboard an American B-29 Superfortress which crashed in Scotland. The plane crashed yesterday near Lochgoilhead, Scotland. Search crews reported they found no survivors.

The bomber, which was attached to the 391st Bomb group stationed at Seampton Field, Lincolnshire, was on the way home to Salina after three months temporary duty in England.

Col. Joe Kelly, 301st Wing commander at Smoky Hill, said he had no definite word on the number of fatalities. Colonel Kelly listed those aboard the plane when it took off at Seampton as including: Master Sgt. Wayne W. Baker, whose parents live at Franklin, Pa., and Master Sgt. Henry P. Prestosh, whose parents live in Gouldsboro, Pa.

no appropriation made. "No apparent steps have been taken since then to acquire the land," he said. "The Interior department says it has no funds, and Congress hasn't provided any."

Protest Hospital Policy

The post also adopted a resolution protesting what Geiselman said was a recent government policy of decreasing the number of beds in veteran hospitals.

A report of the organization of the joint Memorial day committee at a meeting held on January 14, was made by Lawrence M. Sheads. Jesse E. Snyder was named chairman; Glenn Guise, American Legion, William Eckenrode, VFW, and Charles T. Ziegler, United Spanish War Veterans, vice chairmen, he reported.

The membership committee reported that a meeting will be held early in February, and notices sent to all delinquent members who have not paid their 1949 dues. Commander Spahr announced that work of refinishing the bowling alleys started Monday night.

1941 Members

The membership total was reported as 1,084, and the following new members were accepted: John B. Bosak, Gettysburg R. 3; Warren T. CATTLE—Fresh salable receipts at the Union Stock Yards were not materially different than the number counted in the preceding day. A few days ago and the corresponding day last year. Marketings at the 12 major Mid-Western livestock centers, however, showed a 28 per cent. increase in the number of cattle last week and the volume was about 30 per cent heavier than the number offered the same day in 1948.

The local supply made up largely of steers equivalent of 45 loads of medium and good grade, shorted offerings, showed a 28 per cent increase in the number of stockers and feeder steers also included. Some of the steers traveling the slaughter route could easily have been used for feeders. Balance of the supply consisted of cows with odd lots of heifers and bulls.

Cows shared the decline suffered by steers and on an unevenly steady to 50c, lower basis. Good cows and shelly canners, however, most buyer resistance being trading slow on all grades. Common and medium, $18—19.50; few cows of quality about $19.50 noted but an individual good young cow, $22—23; odd head lots, $12—13; shelly canners, $14—17.30, although shelly canners, $13 and below.

There was little change in the selling level for bulls. Beef bulls absent. Good sausage offerings, $22—24.50, while most of the common and medium, $19—23.

There was a change in the selling level for calves. Beef calves absent. Good sausage offerings, $22—24.50, while most of the common and medium, $19—23.

WOODEN HORSE MAY BE COMING FROM RUSSIANS

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

From within the Communist camp comes the sound of timbers being hewn and of nails being driven. One suspects the Reds are building a wooden horse of peace with which to trick the dumb Democracies.

Specifically, Palmiro Togliatti, Italian Communist leader, declared in a week-end speech at Bologna that it is possible for the Communist and non-Communist worlds to live peacefully together. He said collaboration is possible "among all democratic states and between great powers respecting international pacts until they have been unilaterally violated."

Echo From France

Then a few hours later there was an echo from Marcel Cachin, editor of the French Communist newspaper "Humanite." He told a meeting in Milan, Italy, that war between the East and West isn't inevitable.

When you get two prominent Red minds thus synchronized, it isn't likely to be coincidence, especially since there have been other similar statements recently. Orders have been issued by Moscow which, for reasons of its own, wants to lull the Western nations into a feeling of security and amiability.

Why? That remains to be seen, but it probably is one of two things: the Russians desire some concession from the Western world—maybe trade to bolster the economic situation of Eastern Europe. Or they want to disarm the Democracies and get them ready for another Red coup. Washington government officials say they suspect a Moscow-directed propaganda move to wreck the North Atlantic Alliance before it takes shape.

One Sure Thing

In any event we may be certain that a shift by Moscow from vituperation to virtue is a wooden horse. There is one sure thing about Bolshevism. It hasn't the slightest intention of making peace. On the contrary it is committed to war to the bitter end for the destruction of "capitalism" and Democracy.

Therefore the Western Allies must be on their guard. They must continue their utmost efforts for collective economic and military security and for individual security. Collective security, of course, depends on the individual strength, and this is a moment when each country should guard well its home defenses.

Benes' Lesson

Poignant testimony to the peril of temporizing with Bolshevism comes to us in the form of a confession by the late Dr. Eduard Benes, president of Czechoslovakia, who died a broken-hearted man amidst the ruins of the republic which he had helped to build. Benes' private secretary, Dr. Eduard Taborsky, who has just arrived in America, says that while in Stockholm last August he received this message from his chief:

"For a long time I believed that Gottwald (Klement Gottwald, now president of Czechoslovakia), at least did not lie to me. But now I see that they all lie without exception. It is a common matter with all Communists, especially the Russian ones. My greatest mistake was to refuse to believe to the very last that even Stalin lied to me cynically, both in 1935 and later, and that his assurances to me x x x were international deceit."

What more is needed to warn anti-Communist countries to eliminate Communism from their way of life?

Washington, Jan. 18 (AP)—President Truman Monday asked Congress to give him permanent authority to reorganize the government. In a message to the legislators, he said he needs the power to shift government agencies in order to promote "efficient and economical conduct of the public's business."

DECLARES U.S. JURY RETURNS

dition that if you take all of the food produced and divide it among all of the people there would not be enough to provide even a minimum for all. There are 2 1/2 billion people on the earth and each year millions must die from starvation simply because there is not enough food in the world to go around.

"In the 1930s we had tremendous surpluses of food. Enough for 20-300 million more than our population. But our population was 130,000,000 then. It is 140,000,000 now. In ten years or so we will reach the place where our population is 150,000,000, and that will mean that we will have to produce as much as a top surplus year in order to have just enough food for all of our population. At our rate of growth we will soon have 160,000,000 possibly 170,000,000. Within our lifetime we will have to increase our production of food unless we wish to become another India or China where there is just not enough food for all.

"But we have the know-how, we have the means and I am certain this country can do the job to restore the land. To get the picture you must go back 300 years.

Once Fertile Area

"Then all of this land in Pennsylvania, Maryland and surrounding states was woodland. The forest stretched from the far north to the south across the continent. It extended from the shores of the sea on the east to the plains of the west. Under the trees were deep layers of leaves, humus. Streams flowed quietly and cleanly through the woods. The leaves held water, let it seep into the underground reserve. Then came the burning of forests, the tearing up of land with plows and the water was no longer held back. When the rains came the water ran rapidly away, carrying with it the top soil. No longer did most of the water go into the underground reserve. Rivers carried the land, the good top soil, along with them to the sea.

"This loss of top soil hurts everyone. More steers, more wheat, more corn, more oats float down the rivers each year than are grown. If one is to judge by the productivity of the land that is lost. The silt has also cut down on other resources. Ten thousand acres of oyster beds in the Chesapeake bay have been lost due to silt sifting in and pushing the salt water further away. Ports have been turned into marshes in Maryland by Maryland and Pennsylvania soil rolling off farms into the rivers and finally to the sea.

Need Conservation

"However, proper conservation measures can check erosion and can bring the soil back. Everyone is affected by soil and water loss. We must prevent it—or the day will come when we will starve."

The speaker was introduced by W. Clayton Jester, of the Rotary club and a member of the Adams County Soil Conservation district. Jester also operated a projector showing scenes of soil erosion and the use of contour and other conservation practices on farms to prevent loss of soil and water.

President Mares Sherman presided with 58 present.

dark clothes. Mrs. Guise, a resident of Biglerville, told the jury she did not see the Table Rock woman until after the accident.

State Policeman James A. Walsh, who investigated the accident, told the jury he found skid marks made by the rear wheels of the Guise car extending for a distance of 36 feet along the highway. The skidmarks show that Mrs. Guise's car was on the road at all times, and also showed that she could not have been driving much faster than 30 miles per hour, Walsh said.

Son Warned Mother

George Flook, eight-year-old son of Hannah Flook, who was walking with his mother when she was killed, testified he and his mother had left Lower's store in Table Rock a few moments before the accident occurred. They had walked on the left side of the road until they saw a car approaching them, he said, and then had crossed the road to the right side into the lane on which Mrs. Guise was approaching. George said he told his mother to get off the road into a driveway but said she answered that they were far enough over to the side to escape being hit by cars.

Mrs. Guise said she had made a turn around a curve into Table Rock and was nearing another curve when she was momentarily blinded by the lights of an approaching car. Claiming that she never saw Hannah Flook, Mrs. Guise said that "it all seemed to happen at the same time. I saw the other car approaching and then its lights were in my eyes and I could not see and then I heard a bump, and jammed on the brakes."

Richard Ditzler, Table Rock, testified to hearing a noise and going to investigate. He found George Flook prostrate on the Ditzler lawn, about four feet from the 16-foot wide road. He also found Hannah Flook near the Guise car.

Policeman Walsh said that dents in the hood of the car and on the bumper and fender and a broken right headlight indicated she was thrown over the hood when hit by the car.

Urge Pedestrian Law

Clair R. Grimm, owner of Lower's store, said that Hannah Flook was warned, several times, about walking on the wrong side of the road.

The accident occurred about 150 feet from Lower's store.

In answer to a question by Coroner Dr. C. G. Crist, Walsh told the jury that there are no laws regulating the side of the road on which pedestrians may walk. He added that, as a safety measure, pedestrians are urged to walk facing traffic so that they might see approaching vehicles and step off the road. The jurors, it was learned, argued that since all vehicles on highways must carry either lights or, in the case of bicycles, a reflector, so that other vehicles may be able to see the other vehicle at night, pedestrians, for their own safety, should, by law, be forced to wear or carry either lights or reflectors when walking on the highway.

Members of the jury included: Frank Mumper, Harry Holton, Russell Campbell, James A. Aumen, Ray J. Kitzmiller and G. Henry Roth.

COMPLETION OF

grading work has been completed and most guard rail installations have been made.

The by-pass route, when opened to traffic, will mark the completion of the second phase of a three-phase project begun last summer to modernize 15.54 miles of the Lincoln highway between a point west of Fayetteville and McKnightstown. The entire project was awarded in three contracts totaling $3,802,247.

The first phase of the project to be completed was opened November 1—a 4.87-mile stretch of new highway from a point east of Fayetteville to Piney Mountain Inn. This contract was completed by Hempt Bros., Inc. of Camp Hill.

The third phase—7.49 miles of new road between Piney Mountain Inn and McKnightstown—is not expected to be completed until summer. The contract for this project is held by C. J. Langenfelder & Sons, Inc., of Baltimore.

ed by the new pastor.

A reception for the new pastor and his wife will be held in the church school building after the installation service.

The Rev. and Mrs. William Albert Brown, Blairs Mills, parents of the pastor-elect, will come here for the service.

The Rev. Mr. Brown who previously served churches in Dormont and Pittsburgh, recently completed postgraduate work at the Hartford Theological seminary, in Hartford, Conn. He succeeds the Rev. Robert M. Hunt as pastor of the local church. The Rev. Mr. Hunt last September became minister of Christian Education at the East Liberty Presbyterian church in Pittsburgh.
